FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

FHLBanks Price SOFR-Linked Bond

The Office of Finance announced today that the Federal Home Loan Banks (FHLBanks) have priced a $4 billion, six-month maturity bond linked to the Secured Overnight Financing Rate (SOFR), which has been identified by the Federal Reserve’s Alternative Reference Rates Committee as its recommended alternative to U.S. Dollar LIBOR.

Today’s SOFR offering was led by Barclays Capital Inc., HSBC Securities (USA) Inc. and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, with Loop Capital Markets LLC acting as co-manager. The bond is scheduled to settle on December 21, 2018.

“With our third SOFR-linked floater transaction in 2018, the FHLBanks continue to support development of liquidity in the SOFR market,” said John Gerli, Chief Capital Markets Officer of the Office of Finance. “Our issuance fosters a broader acceptance of this new index and enhances our ability to provide reliable liquidity to our members.”

This press release does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy securities of the FHLBanks; nor shall there be any sale of these securities in any jurisdiction in which such an offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful. Any investment decision as to any purchase of securities referred to in this press release must be made solely on the basis of information contained in the FHLBanks' Information Memorandum, as amended or supplemented (including the information incorporated by reference therein), and no reliance may be placed on the completeness or accuracy of the information contained in this press release.

Statements contained in this press release may be "forward-looking statements." Forward-looking statements may be identified by words such as "intend," "anticipate," "believe," "could," "estimate," "may," or comparable terminology. Any forward-looking statements are subject to risks and uncertainties related to the future operations of the FHLBanks and the business environment. These risks and uncertainties could cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the following: changes in interest rates and housing prices; size and volatility of the residential mortgage market; demand for FHLBank advances; volatility of market prices, rates, and indices that could affect the value of investments, including collateral held by the FHLBanks as security; political events, including legislative, regulatory, judicial, or other developments, that affect the FHLBanks, their members, counterparties, underwriters, and/or investors in the consolidated obligations of the FHLBanks; competitive forces, including other sources of funding available to FHLBank members; changes in investor demand for consolidated obligations, including those resulting from changes in credit ratings and/or the terms of derivative transactions; implementation of accounting rules; and the ability to introduce new FHLBank products and services and successfully manage the risks associated with those products and services. Investors are encouraged to consider these and other risks and uncertainties that are discussed in the FHLBanks' Information Memorandum, as amended or supplemented, the FHLBanks' periodic combined financial reports posted on the Office of Finance web site, www.fhlb-of.com, and reports filed by each FHLBank with the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Any duty to update these forward-looking statements is disclaimed.
